

Terms of Service

This website at www.lawoftherockies.com is operated by Law of the Rockies (“Firm”), and designed to provide general information regarding the professional services offered by our Firm.

By visiting this website, you specifically agree to be bound by these Terms of Service, and our Privacy Policy. If you do not agree to be bound by the foregoing, discontinue using this website.

This website and the materials contained herein have been prepared by Law of the Rockies for informational and educational purposes only. Information contained on this website does not constitute legal or other professional advice of any kind.

Though we have strived to be accurate, this website may, at times, contain information that is either out of date or incorrect. Accordingly, the information on this website is provided “as is” with no warranty or representation that it is accurate, up-to-date, or can be used for any specific purpose, express or implied.

This website allows users to send electronic mail communications to our Firm. However, no attorney-client relationship is created by the transmission of information to, or receipt of information by, Law of the Rockies. Any information sent to the Firm through electronic mail communications will not be treated as confidential unless an attorney-client relationship exists. Accordingly, confidential information should not be sent to Law of the Rockies without first contacting the Firm and establishing an attorney-client relationship.

In using our website, you must not transmit any viruses, electronic worms, or any code of a destructive nature.

You may not use our website or any information contained therein for any illegal or unauthorized purpose; nor may you, in the use of our site, violate any laws in your jurisdiction.

Links to other websites are for your convenience only. Law of the Rockies does not take any responsibility for those sites, nor does Law of the Rockies make any representation or warranty whatsoever with respect to those links to other websites.

Any new features or tools which are added to the current site shall also be subject to the Terms of Service. You can review the most current version of the Terms of Service at any time on this page. We reserve the right to update, change, or replace any part of these Terms of Service, at any time, by posting updates and/or changes to our website.

Questions about the Terms of Service or Privacy Policy should be sent to Law of the Rockies by mail to 525 North Main Street, Gunnison, CO 81230, or via e-mail to info@lawoftherockies.com.